

1. Identify organizational, political, economic, demographic, and cultural factors that shape criminal justice policies and people's perceptions
2. Conduct research synthesizing information on criminology and criminal justice
3. Apply research findings to criminal justice practice
4. Analyze and evaluate criminal justice systems and programs
5. Communicate effectively through written reports and oral presentations
Articulate career goals and document evidence of professional growth

* As listed on the program webpage: <https://www.pdx.edu/criminology-criminal-justice/campus-masters-degree-in-criminology-and-criminal-justice>

7/17/2018 (bcs)

To update this information, please contact Brian Sandlin in OAA at bsandlin@pdx.edu.