

1. Apply ethical principles and behaviors that govern the practice of health management and policy.
2. Apply theory in the development, implementation and evaluation of solutions to challenges in health management and policy.
3. Represent cultural competency with diverse cultures and communities in the practice of health management and policy.
4. Apply policy process knowledge and techniques to support development and implementation of health policy.
5. Set and employ appropriate qualitative and quantitative techniques to evaluate and manage health system performance.
6. Design and implement processes to assess and improve organizational and system performance.
7. Solicit and integrate input from health system stakeholders to advance cooperative solutions to health system challenges.
8. Design and deliver communication materials supporting the practice of health services leadership, management and policy.
9. Demonstrate critical and self-reflective thinking in the practice of health management and policy.

*As communicated in the website <https://ohsu-psu-sph.org/mph-health-management-policy/>

7/17/2018 (bcs)