Individuals with medical or non-medical exemptions(s) (except a verified history of disease or blood test indicating immunity to measles (Rubeola)) are not protected against measles (Rubeola). This means that they are at risk for getting the disease. In the event of an outbreak, individuals with an exemption for measles (Rubeola) may be excluded from the University, under the direction of the student Health Services Director and/or the local Health Officer.

Acceptable bases include:

- o Serious allergic reactions (anaphylactic) to Gelatin, Neomycin, or other vaccines.
- o Pregnancy or intent on becoming pregnant within 28 days.
- o Immuno-suppression such as occurs with cancers (leukemia, lymphoma) or medications for such diseases.
- o Taking high doses of cortisone-type medications for more than 2 weeks.

: _____ Individuals with HIV-positive antibodies or with leukemia in remission who have not received chemotherapy for at least three months may receive MMR vaccine.
